Dear Fr. Lemon:

First of all, I would like to thank you for the invitation the the dinner and the play. I thoroughly enjoyed myself.

I am looking forward to sitting down with you sometime in the future to a nice long talk. I have been pretty busy this summer. First of all I am working with some teen agers down in Baltimore, doing some counseling--it is a very challenging position.

One of the other things that I was very impressed about in the seriousness and level of maturity of the few students I met from St. John's in Richmond. Will talk more about that later after I visit them some week-end.

I have listed the following preferences for my pastoral projects up at the Mount:

1. Prospect Hall High School - Work is in teaching religion to high school students one afternoon a week. (I was thinking that possibly since I do have a background in some other subjects--business, etc.--that perhaps I would be able to teach some other subjects--I think that this would be a good opportunity for me.)
2. C.C.D. - Work is in teaching religion in several local parishes. A majority of these parishes will have classes on Sundays. (This, I think, is self-explanatory.)
3. Holy Cross Hospital - Work here is as an assistant chaplain at a general hospital. (I think, also that I would like this, especially since I have been around hospitals quite often.)
4. Deaf School - Work is in sign language teaching deaf children. The knowledge of sign language is needed for this program. (I am limited in this however, because I have only had one of four semesters required for teaching.)

I am also considering on coming back to St. Mary's to go on a retreat camping trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains sometime in October with Fr. Leigh. Also, now that there is no more Saturday classes, I will be more free to move around and get involved in some youth activities, and also possibly visit some of the other seminaries and meet some more of our men and sit and talk to them for a while--that might be a good experience--also I could possibly help you in something, whatever?

I am planning on going to the National CYO convention this coming November, which is being held in Indianapolis.

Well, keep in touch, and if after I get settled up at the Mount, you do not have a chance to come up maybe I can come home and stop up to the office some Friday afternoon for our chat.

Sincerely,

Edward F. Dudzinski Jr.
